

Place three rectangles in a row, small edges touching. Place a strip of masking tape along the row. This will be the inside of the finger.

Flip the finger over and place one rubber band piece across a crack. Tape on either side of the crack. Leave some rubberband showing on the outer edge of the tape.

Fold the rubberband over itself, back toward the center and tape over the edge.

Repeat with other crack.
Repeat procedure two more times for a total of three fingers.

Place finger at the edge of the square piece (palm). On the side with only tape, use tape to secure finger to palm.

Flip over and follow rubberband procedure for the crack between finger and palm.
Repeat two more times for all fingers.

Flip hand over. Use tape to secure straw to each of the three joints on each finger, plus one on the palm beneath each finger. Attach string at the top inside of finger and then thread through all 4 straws. Repeat for each finger.
